SPRINGFIELD M. T. &
Hopkinson, J.
Bowers, I.

By E. V. B. PARKE.

Springfield is more or less of a dark horse, although it possesses several brilliant performers who will have to be closely guarded by the Harvard defence. The Crimson seven has been slightly changed since its last college game, Foster having taken the place of Graustein at point, the little football player being relegated for the time being to the sub's bench.

Another change in the Harvard lineup is the substitution of Pierce for Duncanson at half back. The change, during the last week's work, while Pratt gave way to Seamans. The game will likely develop into a close one, as the home team has a degree enable one to draw the line as to what chance the Crimson has against McGill in the first hard game of the season.

The training table for the hockey team has been started with the following players: Captain Hornblower, R. M. Blackall, O. C. Chadwick, K. F. Dunn, S. H. Foster, R. D. Huntington, E. Leslie, W. S. Seaman, Jr., H. B. Gardner, J. S. Childs, P. K. Houston, E. P. Pierce and J. E. Pratt.

Harvey says there is a chance of Moran and Packer McFarland hooking up in the near future, before one of the Miller brothers is released from prison. "They are trying to land the match and Harvey says he will agree to match his man with Packer, provided the latter will give him $25,000," he says. "The deal between this pair would draw a tremendous crowd," he adds, "and all the neighboring towns."
